Beat Bullying Blue Day at Sacred Heart
Friday 13th November

The theme of this year's event is 'It's Good To Be Different'

We would like our children to be able to see differences as part of who we are; we are all different and we are all special.

We would like our children to understand that differences are nothing to be made fun of! People should not be made to feel ashamed of a difference.

We would like our children to grow up knowing how to treat people equally well.

We would like our children to be confident about getting help if someone is making them unhappy just for being 'me'!

Non-uniform: wear some blue eg. blue jeans but lots of different coloured socks to help us celebrate differences!
